I hate Aptana. The damn thing just takes over your Eclipse install and does everything that you tell it not to do. The only thing I ever used it for was CSS code coloring and insight, but today I had enough and uninstalled it. As a result, I am now looking for a CSS plugin again. Any recommendations?

Yes, I am aware of CSS Editor on SourceForge, but it has had no activity in over four (4) years, so it doesn't really seem like a good choice. Any and all recommendations would be greatly appreciated. :-)
